A Touchstone Energy® Cooperative

Giving thanks for your support —especially in one important way

THE COOPERATIVE DIFFERENCE. If you've been plugged in to our social media channels or have read the magazine over the past few years, you've heard us talk about The Cooperative Difference.

In a nutshell, The Cooperative Difference is made up of the things that make cooperatives different from all other utilities out there. Democratic Member Control and Member Economic Participation are two of the biggest things that set us apart, but there's much more to it than that. And, it isn't all one-sided.

Everything we do at Horry Electric is tied directly to the impact we believe it has or will have on our members. From right-of-way clearing to the full menu of programs and services we make available to members, our first question is always—what difference will this make in the lives of our members.

The relationship between electric cooperatives and the people they serve is truly unique. We think it's extra special at Horry Electric Cooperative. And, we thank you for that. Our members are second to none.

We are thankful that our members are truly connected and engaged with our electric cooperative. Whether it is attending our Annual Meeting, reading South Carolina Living, liking and following us through our various social media outlets, accessing our web site or logging in to MyEnergy Online, Horry Electric members are interacting with their cooperative.

When we launched the Beat the Peak program this past summer, we hoped members would take action and sign up for the alerts and notifications to cut back on energy use during peak times. Member response has been incredible. On October 13, we held a drawing of members who had signed up for the program and awarded a $100 electric bill credit to Mr. Lawrence Salmon of Myrtle Beach. As of the writing of my column this month, there are more than 5,500 subscriptions to the program. We hope it will continue to grow. Together, we really can make a difference in the demand for electricity during peak times. We can't do it without member participation. It's one of the most important program offers we've ever launched to our members.

As 2017 draws to a close and we prepare for 2018, I want to thank you for the support you have shown your cooperative and its employees. We love what we do and care deeply about our members and our community.

Please stay tuned! 2018 is going to be another great year!

Making the Season Brighter

The holiday season is one of the most treasured times of the year, one in which we can depend on the fellowship, support and comfort of our friends and family. That same sort of reliability is also one of the core values of Horry Electric Cooperative, and we want our members to always know we are here to bring warmth, safety and service to you and your loved ones not only now—but throughout the entire year.

Exhibit features nativities from around world

OVER 200 NATIVITY scenes from around the world—and from local collections—will be featured at Maple Baptist Church’s sixth annual Nativities Exhibition, Friday, December 1 through Sunday, December 3.

Many are from the collection of Martha Ann Johnson, a member of the church and of Horry Electric Cooperative. The exhibition is a labor of love for Johnson, who was HEC’s Rural Lady of the Year for 2011. An avid collector and creator of nativities, she helped start the annual event and has been a Best in Show winner in past years. Johnson will be the featured collector this year, and the event will offer visitors a last glimpse at some of her creations. She plans to pass many of her handmade nativity ornaments to her grandchildren at Christmas.

“I work on nativities year-round,” she says. She started collecting when she was married in 1960. “My mother had a plastic set when I was growing up that may have cost all of 29 cents, and now I have one just like it that is one of my most cherished sets.”

Friends who travel buy them and give them to her. One section of the exhibit features tiny nativities. As Johnson notes, “Some of the finest and most precious ones that the people value the most are the little ones.”

Other Maple members loan their nativities for the exhibition, including one that was set in an actual eggshell by a family friend.

Large or small, from lands near and far, the nativities all remind us of the blessed event celebrated each Christmas:

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, who is Christ the Lord.

—Luke 2:11 (ESV)
